PESKY BIRDS

You have a colony of birds hanging out on the eaves by your front door and they are making a mess on the walkway or worse, the people walking below. What do you do?

Instead of resorting to extreme measures, you can modify their behavior using either or both of these methods.

Tanglefoot Bird Repellent lays down a bead of sticky goo that birds simply are not comfortable stepping on. If you lay this goo on places where they roost, they'll be encouraged to look for other more comfortable places to roost.

Wet & Forget Moss, Mold and Mildew Stain Remover is a revolutionary new product in the battle against our area's ubiquitous moss, mold and mildew. Developed and used successfully in New Zealand for the past 30 years, this product is a unique combination of biodegradable selective surfactants that can be used on any exterior surface.

When properly diluted with water and applied with a sprayer, it immediately attacks moss, mold and mildew with results becoming apparent in 1 to 2 weeks. TIPS & TECHNIQUES

ALL ABOUT BAKING SODA

- Old porous tubs and sinks clean really well with a paste of baking soda and hydrogen peroxide, or baking soda and ammonia. Let the paste sit for a while before rubbing.
- To get rid of the hard water buildup in old shower heads, soak it inside a strong, larger size sandwich bag filled with ¼ cup baking soda and 1 cup of vinegar. Seal and let it cook for an hour or so.
- Fiberglass shower walls can be cleaned of hard water spots, mildew and rust stains with no virtually no scratching using baking soda sprinkled on a wet sponge. You can also clean tiled surfaces the same way. Rinse and dry.
- To clean shower doors, spray with vinegar. Let it set for a few minutes and follow it up by scouring with baking soda sprinkled on a wet sponge. Rinse and dry.
- Mix enough baking soda with vinegar to create a bubbling paste. Then, use it to scrub out toilet bowl stains.
- Neutralize odors in a garbage can by sprinkling some baking soda in the bottom of the can before inserting a liner.
